Immigration Increases Unemployment and Menaces Health, Senators Say.

SEND ALIENS TO THE WEST

Head of Marine League Has Plan to Distribute New-comers From Europe.

BULLETIN
Washington—By unanimous vote the senate Saturday agreed to an amendment to the Dillingham immigration bill lowering to 3 per cent of the number now in this country, the aliens to be admitted in any one year.

The Dillingham bill proposed a limitation of 5 per cent. The result of the amendment which was offered by Pat Harrison, Mississippi, is to reduce the number of possible immigrant admissions from 552,000 to 353,000 under the 3 per cent provision.

Harrison's amendment was adopted after he had first proposed to make it 1 per cent. This lost.

Washington—Immigration at this time is harmful to both the health and the industry of the country, senators declared Saturday in opposing the new immigration measures now before the senate.

The typhus menace stirred foes of immigration to new efforts to shut off the human flood from Europe. This group, led by Senators Harrison, Mississippi; Johnson, California; and Harris, Georgia, urged complete exclusion of immigration for a year or at least more drastic legislation than that represented by the Dillingham measure.

This bill would permit entrance of 5 per cent of any nationality of foreigners in the United States. "Present economic conditions in the United States," Senator Harrison told the United Press Saturday, "demand that we suspend immigration for at least a year and take stock of ourselves. There are no jobs in this country now for all the American population. Let alone the new labor which these immigrants would bring. These foreigners not only add to the industrial unrest, but they bring with them an assortment of political isms which have no place in this country today. In addition, the recent appearance of typhus should warn us that a low class of immigration is dangerous to the health of the country."

Send Them to West
New York—Opposition of European immigration to Pacific coast ports was urged Saturday by P. H. Ross, president of the National Marine league, in an interview with the United Press. Ross declared that such a move would result in the following advantages:

Better distribution of foreign labor. Relief of congestion in eastern cities.

Furnishing of western states with higher class labor than the present oriental and Mexican elements.

Greater opportunity to the better type of immigrants.

Ross suggested that if privately-owned shipping companies were not inclined to cooperate in such a plan, government-owned vessels operated by the United States shipping board could be employed to carry immigrants from Europe to the Pacific coast, through the Panama canal.

LYDD GEORGE PUT ON PAN BY PRESS

Wins Confidence of Parliament But Not of British Newspapers.

London—Premier Lloyd George having won parliamentary approval of his government's policy regarding German reparations encountered severe criticism from a portion of the press Saturday.

The Northcliffe papers charged abandonment of Lloyd George's election pledges and lack of firmness in enforcing the decisions of the recent Paris conference of the supreme council, "which were vital and should be enforced in spirit and letter."

The Post declared that the premier made a mistake in "defending a perfectly sound position by unsound arguments," adding that he is liable to "misinterpretation and may arouse doubts in France."

What practically amounted to a vote of confidence in the government came from the house by a vote of 181 to 40 defeated Horatio Bottomley's amendment to the speech from the throne. The amendment censured the government's policy regarding the peace treaty.

Press comment on the long deferred report of Viscount Milner former secretary of the colonies urging self-government for Egypt, was divided in tone. "The general attitude was that the recommendations would not be followed particularly at this time, through fear of the inevitable complications with Ireland."

DEMOCRAT CHIEF HOPES OPPONENTS WILL DO GOOD JOB

Chairman White, However, Will Be on Job to Watch Republicans.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921)

Washington, D. C.—George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee, who has been retained in power by unanimous vote of the executive committee of the party, said today that he hoped President-elect Harding would find an early solution of the many economic problems facing the country and that Democrats everywhere should lay aside partisan feeling and cooperate. "I have taken the position all along," declared Mr. White in an exclusive interview, "that this was not the time for excessive organization work and I believe the opposition to me which has recently arisen was partly due to the fact that I favored doing nothing for the present anyway that would seem as if we were more interested in party success than the nation's welfare. I felt that in the face of a very serious economic situation it was incumbent on every good citizen irrespective of political affiliations to wish the incoming administration success. As chairman of the Democratic national committee, I shall, of course, hold the new administration to a strict accountability for all of its acts. I am planning the closest kind of co-operation between the Democratic national committee and the leaders of the Democratic minority in both houses of congress with the objective of helping frame constructive legislation on great issues as they arise and with the object of referring to this country in 1922 and 1924 all the suggestions of constructive policy that will have been made by the time we may compare them with what has actually been done."

WON'T TALK WAGES TO NATIONAL BODY

Railroads Will Deal With Organizations Separately. Open Shop Issue Up.

Chicago.—Decision by the federal railroad labor board on the petition of railroads for the right to reduce wages and abrogate some national agreements will be handed down during April, according to indications Saturday.

The decision on whether boards of adjustment shall be national or local in scope, settling the open shop question, probably will come in April also.

The board made arrangements to rush its work when it arranged to hear arguments of representatives of employees not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor while waiting for presentation of arguments by B. M. Jewell, the federal representative.

Jewell will present his arguments on March 10. Heads of the big four railroad labor organizations were meeting here Saturday advising him on drawing up his arguments.

Railroad executives have definitely rejected the proposal of employees for national collective bargaining, putting that proposition directly up to the federal labor board.

CARUSO'S CONDITION IS IMPROVING EVERY DAY

New York.—Enrico Caruso, who suffered a relapse Tuesday after a long illness with pleurisy, continues to improve. It was officially announced by his physicians Saturday.

A bulletin issued at 11 a. m. signed by his five doctors, stated:

"Mr. Caruso has continued to improve although his fever has not subsided. His course is progressing in a satisfactory manner."

The next consultation of the physicians is scheduled for 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

LEGION TO OPEN BIG MEMBERSHIP DRIVE NEXT WEEK

Automobile Parade on Saturday Evening Will Be Opening Feature.

Preparations will be going on all next week by Oney Johnston post of the American Legion for a membership drive to open Saturday, Feb. 26.

The aim will be a 100 per cent post among all former service men of the community.

Two of the officers, Thomas Morrissey, vice commander, and L. Hugo Keller, adjutant, are spending Saturday in Marshfield attending a conference of post officials from all parts of the state. Both the national and state commanders were to be present and a comprehensive program of activities will be mapped out. The Appleton men expect to obtain added ideas for conducting the local campaign.

An automobile parade, on the evening of the opening Saturday will be one of the features. A band has been engaged, and an attractive legion float is being prepared.

Teams will be organized to visit every home and enroll all the former service men residing there. Booths will be established in the downtown section where it will be convenient to join without waiting for a committee to visit the prospect. All members who have renewed their membership for this year will be expected to do so before the new campaign is under way.

LOBBYISTS FLOOD HALLS OF CAPITOL

"Special Interests" Begin Final Drive to Get Action on Pet Measures.

By L. C. Martin
Washington.—The eleventh hour rush to get legislation passed before final adjournment of congress was on Saturday.

With less than two weeks of the present session remaining, members are demanding action on "pet" measures.

Some of them hint at filibusters to hold up appropriation unless they get it.

In addition outside lobbies are conducting a series of "drives" in an effort to force through measures in which they are interested.

The farmers have got behind the packer regulation bill and the Capper-Volstead bill, exempting farm organizations from operation of anti-trust laws. They are openly encouraging a filibuster of the part of congressmen friendly to them.

Women are urging the house to act on the maternity bill, railroads are appealing for action on a bill to allow payment of part of the money due them under the guarantee clause of the transportation act, ex-service men want action on the soldier bonus and army and navy officers want their promotions ratified.

The efforts of the lobbyists and most of those of congressmen are scheduled to fail, however. Appropriation bills have been given the right-of-way.

5,500 MORE MEN WILL RESUME MAKING FORDS

Detroit.—Four thousand additional men will be added to the working force at the Ford Motor company's Highland Park plant, it was announced Saturday.

This will bring the total working force to 14,000 and the average production to 2,500 cars a day.

Between 1,500 and 2,000 men are being called back to work Monday by the American Motor Body company, factory officials announced Saturday.

The company, which makes sedan bodies for the Ford Motor company, has been shut down since last December.

CATCH BANDITS BUT $300,000 LOOT IS GONE

Two Train Robbers Are Captured in Minnesota After Running Battle.

BADGER BANK IS ROBBED

"Reformed" Robber Is Shot When Arkansas Holdup Is Foiled.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Red Wing, Minn.—Peter J. Beltz, prominent real estate dealer, was held in jail here this afternoon in connection with the robbery of the state bank at Stockholm, Wis., Saturday.

He was arrested by a posse which followed him across the ice of Lake Pepin in an automobile.

Money was found in the car, deputies said. Beltz left here recently and said he was going to North Dakota on business.

Minneapolis.—Two men believed to have robbed the mail car of the North Coast limited on the Northern Pacific of $300,000, were captured at Little Falls, Minn., early Saturday after a running revolver fight with deputies.

One of the deputies and one of the alleged bandits were wounded in the fight.

C. E. Strong, a mail clerk, was wounded when he attempted to resist the bandits.

Deputies in autos met the two men at the outskirts of Little Falls. They opened fire when ordered to halt and the gun fight lasted while the autos raced over a mile. The loot was not recovered.

A mask and several weapons were found in the automobile in which the two men were attempting to escape.

The accused men gave the names of Buck Allen and Bob Ford.

The train was held up at Bailey, Minn. The bandits had boarded the mail car at St. Cloud. Mail Clerk Strong was forced to bind the other two clerks and then was locked in a locker.

When Strong attempted to break from the locker he was shot. Other members of the crew did not know of the robbery until the train reached Minneapolis and the mail clerks were found bound.

Stockholm Bank Robbed
Hudson, Wis.—Bank bandits held up and robbed the Stockholm state bank at Stockholm, Wis., near here, shortly before 10 o'clock Saturday and escaped toward St. Paul in an auto.

Police of the Twin Cities were notified and are guarding all roads.

H. R. Anderson, cashier of the bank, said the bandits secured $1,900 in currency and $400 in silver.

He saw an automobile cross Lake Pepin and stop in front of the bank and one man entered. He drew a gun and demanded the money, the cashier handing it out.

A customer entered and the bandit turned the gun on him. The customer fled and the bandit followed. He jumped into the automobile which was driven rapidly away.

"Reformed" Robber Shot
Harrison, Ark.—"I was in debt $2,000 and didn't have the money, so I turned bank robber again," said Henry Starr, "the praying bandit," who was shot through the spine while he and several companions were attempting to hold up the bank of Harrison.

Following his release from the Oklahoma penitentiary several years ago where he was serving a 25 year sentence for bank robbery, Starr announced that he had "reformed."

When Starr and his companions backed President Myers and other bank employees in the bank vault yesterday, the 63-year-old bank president emerged through a trap door and began firing with a rifle. A bullet clipped Starr's spinal column.

"Don't shoot boys, make your getaway," Starr cried to his companions.

Hardings All

Know all these men? You should. They are all leaders in public life and—there's all Hardings! Top to bottom: President-elect Harding, Chester Harding, governor of the Panama Canal Zone; W. L. Harding, ex-governor of Iowa; W. P. G. Harding, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank.

SUICIDE ADMITS CRIME BUT DOESN'T TELL WHERE

Los Angeles.—Leaving a note stating that a guiltless man was serving a penitentiary term in New York for a murder he had committed, Edward Perry, or Daniel Plummer, shot and killed himself last night in Lancaster, near here.

Perry committed suicide after receiving a postcard signed "Mrs. Clara Fields, General Delivery, San Antonio, Texas."

Although he had been using the name of Plummer, he stated in the farewell note that his true name was Perry. He said he is wanted in several states on murder charges, but did not mention the names of the states.

The joint finance committee of the legislature has not reported out an emergency appropriation bill for the tax commission.

FORDNEY BILL IS LOSING SUPPORT

Little Chance Sufficient Votes Can Be Mustered to Defeat Veto.

Washington.—The house Saturday after two hours debate, sent the Fordney emergency tariff bill to a conference with the senate. The vote by which the action was taken was 198 to 122, indicating the measure cannot be passed over the president's expected veto by the necessary two-thirds majority.

Democratic opposition to the bill increased to a considerable extent since it was considered in the house last December, the vote Saturday revealed.

A conference report is expected within a few days after which the bill will again be submitted to the two houses and if approved by both in the same form, sent to the president.

The house conferees are: Representatives Fordney, Michigan; Green, Iowa; Longworth, Ohio; Henry, Rainey, Illinois; and Hull, Tennessee.

Appleton Womens Club Leases Building and Provides Matron to Care for Youngsters While Mothers Earn Livelihood.

Adding another activity to its ever-growing list of enterprises, Appleton Womens club has entered a new field by providing a home for working women with young children. The old S. R. Willy home on Kimball-st. has been leased by the club and is being fitted up as a place where women may rent rooms for themselves and children, where the children will be taken care of during the day by a capable matron and where they will be given their noon meal at a very reasonable price.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Anna Geenen and a committee, the project has been made possible and a long felt need in the city will be taken care of.

Miss Geenen has been in direct touch with the problem of the working woman with children because of her connection with the free employment agency, which she has maintained for years.

By March 1, single rooms and suites of rooms will be rented either

FREE TEXTBOOK BILL IS PASSED BY LOWER HOUSE

School Book Company Is Charged With Attempt to Bribe School Officers.

SOCIALIST BILL LOSES

Tax Commission Will Quit March 1 Unless More Money Is Provided.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—The free textbook bill, making the furnishing of textbooks free to all public school pupils was passed by the assembly Saturday. The bill repeals the optional system now a law in the state and compels boards of education to furnish all textbooks used by pupils in both the graded and high schools.

The bill was adopted after an extended debate. A motion to indefinitely postpone consideration of the measure was killed by a vote of 44 to 18. During the debate, John Ganser, assemblyman from Medford, charged the American School Book company agents with attempting to bribe school officers.

The bill was offered by Assemblyman E. H. Johnson and was recommended for passage by the committee on education. The original bill applied only to graded and rural schools. An amendment was adopted making the provisions of the bill applicable to high schools.

Socialist Bill
The assembly debated adoption of the Tolson bill, a socialist measure, providing for state owned and operated warehouses, storage houses and grain elevators. Assemblyman Robert Caldwell, Lodi, offered an amendment to the measure providing the state also take over the farms and operated them. Caldwell made an ironical argument in support of the amendment, but it was lost 29 to 30. The close margin caused a request that the bill be put over to next Wednesday's calendar and it was adopted.

The Matheson bill extending the educational bonus to world war soldiers serving 60 days was killed, 35 to 20. The bill, according to the author, would give the educational bonus to approximately 100 men. Objection was raised to the measure by ex-service men and members of the assembly.

The legislative committee investigating the interstate park near St. Croix Falls recommended in its report to the assembly an appropriation of $17,000 effective July 1 to convert the old mill into a fish hatchery.

$10,000 for highway numbered 35 and an annual appropriation of $12,000 for the construction of dams and trout pools and in beautifying the park.

The Milwaukee Association of Commerce petitioned the assembly to take over as a forest reserve land lying between the forks of the Flambeau river in Price county.

On the motion of Assemblyman Oliver reconsideration of the Milwaukee rent board emergency appropriation was permitted.

The senate passed the Kuckuk bill prescribing the teaching of "citizenship" in elementary schools. The bill now goes to the assembly.

Need More Money
Unless the state makes an emergency appropriation of $72,000, the Wisconsin tax commission will not function after March 1, according to a letter sent out Saturday by the secretary, A. J. Myrland.

The notice is addressed to assessors of incomes, their deputies and all employees of the tax commission. The present appropriations of the commission will be exhausted March 1, and the letter states, no further liabilities will be permitted. Continuation of service after that date will be at the risk of the employee, the notice says.

The joint finance committee of the legislature has not reported out an emergency appropriation bill for the tax commission.

CARY ASKS $50,000 MORE FOR SCHOOLS

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison, Wis.—"The Lord only knows what will happen to my department unless I get more money," C. P. Cary, state superintendent of public instruction, told members of the joint finance committee.

The department has overdrawn its appropriation $25,500 for this year and $8,000 for the last year. It seeks an additional increase of $50,000 a year. The state superintendent also wants the committee members to introduce a bill raising the salary of his office from $5,000 to $10,000 or $12,000 a year.

The deficit, Cary told the committee, was due largely to increases in salaries. They had to be made or the department would have lost its organization, he said.

The state board of education recommends that superintendent of public instruction be held to the old appropriation of $38,500 annually.

The committee will not come to a decision until after the rate of the educational reorganization bill are known.

CHARLES E. HUGHES

HUGHES ANNOUNCED FOR CABINET POST

President-Elect Harding Makes Formal Announcement of Appointment.

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Augustine, Fla.—Formal announcement of the appointment of Charles E. Hughes of New York, as secretary of state in President-elect Harding's cabinet was made here Saturday by Harding.

Announcement of Hughes' appointment followed his conference with Harding here Saturday.

It had been generally understood for several days that Hughes would be the next secretary of state.

Harding first tendered the office to Hughes shortly after election, but his acceptance was delayed until he had accepted the master.

Harding announced that the policy of the state department under his administration would be to let the secretary of state be his own spokesman. He said he could be excused so Hughes could talk alone to the newspapermen.

Hughes said he regarded it as a very high honor to be invited to become the secretary of state.

"I regard it as an imperative obligation to accept," he said.

"It is a call no one could well refuse."

Hughes made it clear that he did not mean that he would in any way upon the recent declaration of Gov. Lowden, Illinois, to accept a cabinet appointment.

YANKS SOON WILL BE LEAVING RHINE

Washington.—Withdrawal of American representation on the reparations commission, formally announced Saturday by Roland W. Boyden, has severed the last official connection of the United States with enforcement of the treaty of Versailles.

American troops still remain in the Coblenz area, but their position is regarded as diplomatically untenable and they are expected to be ordered home at once. Their abandonment of that section of the Rhine territory, it is believed, will mean that their place will be taken by French forces.

Occupation of the Coblenz area by French troops will permit France to make another military demonstration against Germany, in keeping with the warning sounded Friday by Premier Briand. He declared that while "France does not wish to act independently of her allies, she is in a position to carry out on her own responsibility those provisions of the peace treaty which provide for military action."

Washington, colored, who testified Monday, was recalled by the defense when court opened Saturday in the Matewan killing trial. She was questioned regarding her statement that she was forced to return here from Bristol, Tenn., to testify.

The witness denied she had been paid, or offered any inducement to testify.

Thomas Chafin of Matewan, relative of three of the defendants, testified as to details of the shooting. Chafin said he had started with a crowd toward the river after the revolver fight.

"I saw a dead man carried away from there," Chafin said.

He identified Nathan Atwood with Rowman Fred Egan and Doug Mounts as part of the crowd and told of seeing Ed Chambers take papers out of one dead man's pocket.

Secretary Houston Asks House to Appropriate Money Without Delay.

GERMS CARRIED INTO U. S.

Several Cases of Deadly Disease Have Been Discovered in Inland Towns.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—State department to ban immigration from typhus infected districts was checked by protests from the public health service, it was said at the department Saturday.

This happened some time before the discovery of typhus at the New York quarantine station and its appearance inland, it was said.

Warning of immigrants bringing typhus to the United States were received some time ago by the state department from its consular offices abroad. Under Secretary of State Davis called a conference of immigration committees of congress, labor department and health service of states. It was planned to ban immigrants leaving the infected districts but the health service objected.

Secretary of the Treasury Houston Saturday urged congress to rush an appropriation of $200,000 for disinfecting and handling typhus facilities at New York. The senate has already passed the appropriation and Houston's recommendations were contained in a letter to Speaker Gillett of the house. "The health service of the house," said according to Mr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner.

In an interview Saturday Copeland declared the development of three typhus cases in Cortland, near Syracuse, New York, indicated that an indeterminate number of the disease carriers had penetrated the interior of the country.

"The only means of getting rid of many immigrants, either infected with typhus, or carrying the deadly typhus louse, got by the federal health authorities before we established the reexamination process now in force," Copeland said.

Three Cases Reported
New York.—Typhus may break out in any part of the United States as the result of vermin-infested European immigrants being admitted by federal officials, according to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner.

In an interview Saturday Copeland declared the development of three typhus cases in Cortland, near Syracuse, New York, indicated that an indeterminate number of the disease carriers had penetrated the interior of the country.

"The only means of getting rid of many immigrants, either infected with typhus, or carrying the deadly typhus louse, got by the federal health authorities before we established the reexamination process now in force," Copeland said.

"The period of incubation for the typhus germ is 12 to 20 days. For that reason it is expected to know very shortly whether any persons already infected with the disease were admitted to the country before we undertook his present precautions."

"But apparently the greatest danger is from persons who while they may not have been infected at the time of their admission, carried the typhus louse in their clothing or baggage. This vermin may infect them later or it may be communicated to other persons in railway trains, stations, street cars and other public places. Disease spread in this way might not develop for weeks or even months."

Prepared for Action
Washington.—Surgeon General Hugh Cumming of the United States public health service, Saturday extended the federal sanitation battle against the deadly typhus fever and sleeping sickness.

Typhus now ravaging Poland and central Europe, has appeared sporadically here. Deaths from sleeping sickness are being reported with increasing frequency.

Reports that the disease has been found outside New York City reached here. Should the disease spread in any interior locality, the battle to prevent its reaching the epidemic state would be greatly complicated.

Giant delousing plants would have to be set up in localities where typhus gained a foothold much like those used by the army during the war. Typhus is contracted only through the bite of a louse, public health physicians explained here Saturday. The disease spreads only where filth and insanitary conditions prevail.

Kaukauna News Notes

VOLLEYBALL MAKES HIT IN KAUKAUNA

Phonograph Concert Enjoyed by Big Crowd—Mrs. Ellen Dies Wednesday.

Kaukauna — Friday afternoon is business men's day in the auditorium. The need of more exercise is being injected into the minds of the men who work day in and day out on the same old task. Volleyball seems to be making a hit with Kaukauna men just as it does wherever tried. Between 25 and 30 men assembled every Friday afternoon to forget their business troubles in an afternoon of good exciting volleyball.

The men assembled for the third time Friday afternoon. Most of them are already experts at batting the ball, compared with their ability just three weeks ago. Gray hair does not prevent the men from shouting in glee when their side scores a point. The old foggy who looks on remarks on the foolishness of it and wonders what fun can be had out of getting a soft ball through the air. But each week sees a few more of these foggies out on the floor wondering how they ever managed to get along without their regular Friday afternoon volleyball game.

The auditorium makes as good a gymnasium as can be had. With the turnouts installed there is no danger of freezing. There are showers with warm water in the basement. The floor is big enough to accommodate another hundred men if necessary.

Concert is Enjoyed
Between seventy-five and one hundred people attended the phonograph concert given by the Ladies Foreign Mission society of the Reformed church Friday evening in the church basement. The musical part of the program consisted of 20 numbers. The selection "Oloha Oe" as sung by May Peterson was well received, especially by those who were fortunate in hearing Miss Peterson a few weeks ago when she appeared in Appleton.

Two readings, "Opportunity" and "Curiosity", given by Miss Lillian Glonzer were excellent. A series of jokes and humorous poems by one of the young men kept the crowd in an uproar for 15 minutes.

During the concert, B. W. Fargo, who loaned two Pathe phonographs and prepared the musical program, gave a short talk of the phonograph.

Mrs. Cora May Ellen, 44, died at 10:45 Wednesday evening in her home on Depot-st. She is survived by her husband, Stephen Ellen, her mother, Mrs. Albert Pratt of Ellory, Vernon-co., and three sisters, Mrs. Barney Mitchell and Mrs. Earl Mitchell of Ellory, and Mrs. Ben Helmke of Wausau.

Mrs. Ellen was a resident of Kaukauna for 27 years. For the last 12 years she was an invalid and was continually confined to a wheel chair. She was born February 11, 1877 near Ellory. She was first married on Feb. 27, 1894 to Mr. Betts, and later married Stephen Ellen. They came to Kaukauna soon after their marriage.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from Brokaw Memorial Methodist church, with the Rev. A. E. Tink in charge of the services. Interment was in Kelso cemetery.

Several high school students have taken up the work of selling Salvation Army buttons to help in the campaign of that organization. The representative of the Salvation Army visited the school Friday to collect money which had been received by the students.

A meeting of the student council of the high school was held Wednesday. Rules were tabulated and posted, showing just what each student will be obliged to do in order to keep order in the halls and about the building. Other items of routine business were taken up.

Kaukauna Society
Several dance science girls entertained their classmates at a Friday afternoon luncheon in the domestic science rooms. The room was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Lunch was prepared as part of class work. Members of the freshman and sophomore classes were present.

A dress parade will be held by the sewing class of the Nicolett vocational school Tuesday evening in the school building. Miss Powell, instructor of the north side vocational school will give a demonstration on making dress forms.

The following program was given at the regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers association of Nicolett school Thursday evening:
Nursery songs ..... Kindergarten Music. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Look. Arthur and George Look.

Drill ..... Second Grade Duet ..... Sylvia and Ills Nagel Vocal solo ..... Miss Mabel Richardson Address ..... R. M. Radsch Dialogue—Geneva Johnson. Ruth Winge and Wilmer Parker.

Mr. Radsch emphasized the importance of correct habit formation on the part of the pupils. He said that good buildings and equipment were essential in the process of teaching and he urged every one to support and push as much as possible the action which is being taken for a new high school.

A good attendance characterized the meeting. The object of the association is to bring parents and teachers together. The meetings are not intended for children and efforts are being made to decrease the number of children who attend.

The program committee for the next meeting will be Mrs. William Klumb, Jr., Mrs. C. S. Webster and Mrs. Becker. On account of the exhibition of Park and Nicolett schools on Thursday March 17, there will be no meeting until April 21.

FARMERS MEET TO TALK FARM BUREAU

Outagamie County Agriculturists Want to Know About New Organization.

Kaukauna — Dissatisfied with the work of the American Society of Equity and other farm organizations, many Outagamie county farmers are meeting in the auditorium here Saturday to discuss the advisability of forming a branch of the Farm Bureau federation.

Charles Peterson, Madison, organizer for the bureau, will be principal speaker. The meeting was not called to organize a branch of the bureau but to discuss its purposes and learn what it has to offer. Malachi Ryan, Buchanan, is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

Miss Edna Ruff, supervisor of music in the high school, entertained the students during general assembly with several whistling selections. She was accompanied by Miss Laura Mau, pianist. ### SUFFERED SIX YEARS

Mrs. Stoll Tells Women How She Found Relief From Pain

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered for six years with pain every month, had vomiting spells the first two days, and was unfit to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took the medicine with satisfactory results. I am a midwife and recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and my daughters take it. You may publish these facts as a testimonial."

Mrs. LOUISE STOLL, 609 W. York St., Philadelphia, Pa.

It is not natural for women to suffer as did Mrs. Stoll, and in nine cases out of ten it is caused by some displacement or derangement of the system which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes, because it acts as a natural restorative.

Every woman who is subject to cramps, headaches, nervous spells, backache or those dreadful bearing-down pains should profit by Mrs. Stoll's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about their health.

WAGE BATTLE ON TREE DESTROYERS

Commercial Organizations Agitate Spraying of Shade Trees Each Year.

Several Wisconsin cities, including Appleton, are interested in Terre Haute's move to preserve its shade trees from pests and diseases, and to beautify the city by expert tree trimming and culture.

A questionnaire was submitted to the Appleton Chamber of Commerce some time ago regarding tree conditions here. The result of all the blanks has been compiled by the Greater Terre Haute club and a copy has been received by the local chamber.

Appleton's most popular trees are given as elm and maple. There is no city forester as in many other cities, but the park superintendent has this matter in hand. There has been no investigation of tree diseases. The tree "butcher" is reported to be at large in Appleton, meaning those who spoil the appearance of trees by not properly trimming them.

Janeville's popular tree is the oak and the city owns a spraying outfit with which to kill tree pests. Oshkosh joins with Appleton in defining its favorite trees as elm and maple. Trees there are slightly affected by scale and some spraying is done. Few tree butchers are reported abroad.

Terre Haute is arranging a scoring contest for various Indiana cities to indicate which ones lead in culture and care of trees. This will be done on Washington's birthday and score card issued in printed form. Clinton, Ind., has challenged all towns in its state.

The movement was started when it was found that the most cities failed to observe the disease which are fast eliminating many of the finest tree specimens. The only method of saving is proper spraying.

MENASHA LOSES BUT NEENAH WINS ITS GAME

Oshkosh high school basketball five defeated the Menasha high school quintet in the Menasha armory Friday evening by a score of 23 to 10.

Menasha was held scoreless during the first half but in the second half made 10 points to 6 points by Oshkosh.

Neenah high school basketball quintet ran away with the West Green Bay high school basketballers in the Neenah high school gymnasium Friday evening by a score of 54 to 17.

Denny's men had things their own way and substitutes were used.

C. W. Bush of Chicago, traveling auditor of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Co., was in Appleton on business Friday.

City Must Have Ideas And Ideals To Be Ideal City

BY HUGH G. CORBETT

(Secretary, Chamber of Commerce)

Two thousand years ago the apostle Paul, in speaking of his home town, said, "I am a citizen of no mean city."

I set out the other day with the aid of the encyclopedia to see if I could learn what it was that made Tarsus a city of which its citizens could say, "No mean city."

I found in the first place that Tarsus was a seat of learning; the fame of its schools was known far and wide. Tarsus was further famed for its good roads. A city that you cannot get to easily is a "mean city."

Tarsus was also a commercial and industrial center. These were so far as I know the special distinctions of Tarsus. There were no doubt, others that history does not record.

The ideal city of today must have other advantages than education, good roads and industry; it must be a city of ideas and ideals; a city with a community spirit; where capital is respected, but has no temples; a city where people live in homes where there is room for a garden and flowers; where fresh air is not delivered in pint cans; where children can see and enjoy God's great outdoors; where brains, character and manners and not bank balances, give ratings to men; where there is neither flaunting wealth or wretched poverty; where life is comfortable and toil honorable; where industry is great, but not greater than the toiler. We have not realized all these things, but we are still pressing forward.

I have invariably noticed after exhibiting and going over the matter of factory sites and statistics with the man seeking a business location, that he will invariably want to know about our homes, our schools, our churches, our social life and our clubs and recreational organizations whether Appleton is a place where domestic life is enjoyable; where social life is broad; where vice is in restraint; where moral and physical sanitation has been considered; a city to which men will want to make their home and rear their families.

For that reason I will add these things to the trade statistics of Appleton. A city offering the most alluring inducements to commerce and production. A city preeminent for its homes—a city where men are proud to say, "I am a citizen of no mean city."

GIRL CAGERS OUT FOR STATE TITLE

Bushey Quintet Will Meet Tri-state Champions in Milwaukee Tonight.

A state girls' basketball championship contest will be staged in Milwaukee Saturday evening when a team representing Bushey Business college meets the Milwaukee Federals in the auditorium. Mrs. A. E. Adst and Fred Bushey will accompany the local quintet.

No easy contest is expected. The Federals have not lost a game in three years and claim the championship for Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana. The game Saturday will decide the Wisconsin title. On top of this record, the Federals have beaten every team by 25 points or more. The Bushey girls do not expect to win, but they expect to reduce this scoring record.

Those in the Appleton team are the Misses Margaret Peters, Virginia Pratt, Dorothy Adst, Bernice Adst, Helen Wheeler and Dorothy Peterson. They left Appleton Saturday morning.

WAR TORN ARRAS IS GROWING RAPIDLY

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Paris—Pre-war inhabitants of the vicinity of Arras, embracing 300 destroyed towns and villages, have returned to the district and are carrying on the work of reconstruction, according to a survey made by the American Red Cross.

Buildings not entirely destroyed are being restored while owners of wrecked homes are building little houses from debris.

Arras has increased in population from a pre-war total of 25,000 to more than 41,500, and Bethune from 15,000 to 25,000. Lens, however, only has 9,000 of its pre-war 31,800.

French relief agencies have located 21 community welfare centers, easily accessible to neighboring communes.

The greatest need of the district is for milk, as the number of cows has decreased from a pre-war total of 41,000 to less than 8,000. The general health throughout the district is normal, with sanitary conditions good.

War widows in England are remarking at the rate of 2,000 a month. The earth's average speed around the sun is 18 1/2 miles a second.

IF YOU HAD NO NEWSPAPERS
In England during the Christmas holidays all newspapers suspended for three days. During that time there was no dissemination of news through the usual channels. The last newspapers were published on Friday evening, December 24, and no more issued until the following Tuesday morning. On Christmas the people of England awoke and through force of habit sought the morning papers. There were none. They began to wonder what had happened in the world the night before. Their favorite sporting news was missed; their political inquisitiveness was unsatisfied and they did not know what was the state of affairs at home or on the continent.
When Sunday came the news hunger had grown so much that rumors began to fly. Wherever groups gathered, wild stories were told. The assassination of a cabinet minister was reported. It was said that there had been a terrible railway accident; four persons were said to be dead in an airplane accident. The great East Indian docks were said to have burned; a railway station was consumed by flames.
All these crazy stories added to the desire of the people for news, and yet they could get no news. They discovered how dependent they were for the very equanimity of their lives upon the newspapers.
Enterprising newsboys took advantage of the situation and conducted "penny a look" news stands. They visited offices of newspapers and copied the dispatches from the tickers on sheets of paper. These they let curious folk read for a penny a peep. They took the papers of Friday and stamped on them with rubber stamps the results of sporting events. It was a harvest for the newsies and a revelation for the news seekers. It is probable that when the newspapers reappeared on Tuesday their worth was much more appreciated by their readers than it had ever been before.
If it were impossible to get newspapers in America the situation would be even more aggravated for the American people as a whole perhaps are more eager about current happenings than even the Britisher. Suppose newspapers had suspended for three days during the war. It is easy to imagine what confusion, fear and actual panic would have prevailed. Fertile ground would have presented itself to the humormonger. Stories of disaster and defeat would have shaken the whole country. Only the reappearance of the newspapers with the real truth would have allayed the terror.
It is not an uncommon statement to hear, that "you can't believe what is in the papers." No one means it, because if they stopped to think, all would know that they do believe what is in the papers and that as a general thing the actual facts justify their faith. If they didn't believe or couldn't believe what they read, the situation would be the same or worse than it would if there were no papers. Panic would reign.
WISCONSIN AND FORESTRY
A conference to be participated in by Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa and Missouri will be held at Chicago next Thursday when a forest policy for these eight states will be discussed and in all probability agreed upon. This conference may also be expected to indorse the Snell bill pending before congress which formulates the policy of the United States Forest service. Under this measure federal aid will be given to states whose forest policies conform to those of the national government, and a part of the work of the Chicago meeting will be to consult with a representative of the government for the drafting of state programs which will coordinate in the manner intended by the Snell bill. It will be probably the most important consultation of states on the forestry problem yet held, and the results are of the greatest potential value to Wisconsin, which of fers exceptional opportunities for reforestation and timber conservation.

The Snell bill provides for a survey of forest resources and timber requirements of the nation. It contemplates forest protection and renewal in cooperation with states, federal expenditures for this purpose not to exceed expenditures by the state. For the above purposes the sum of $2,000,000 annually for five years is appropriated, of which $1,000,000 goes to forest protection. The sum of $1,000,000 is also appropriated yearly for five years for forest research and investigation in wood utilization including study of forest taxation. There is a further appropriation of $1,000,000 annually for five years for reforestation of denuded lands in national forests, and an appropriation of $10,000,000 yearly for five years for acquiring additional land for national forests.
The bill defines the procedure in purchase of lands suitable for forest production, authorizes acquisition of similar land by exchanges of land or timber when clearly in the public interest, provides for classification of other public lands which are valuable chiefly for timber production or watershed protection, and appropriates $250,000 yearly for five years for this purpose.
For the last thirty years we have had more or less fragmentary and spasmodic consideration of the question of national timber supply, and the Snell bill embodies the most comprehensive plan for conserving and replenishing our timber resources yet made. It has the indorsement of the National Forestry association, and its passage is of concern to the entire country and particularly to those northern states which will be its most direct beneficiary and which must be looked to primarily for reforestation.
Every year on an average of $25,000,000 worth of growing timber is destroyed by preventable fires, yet when Secretary of Agriculture Meredith this year asked for an appropriation of $1,000,000 to prevent and fight forest fires congress cut the amount to $125,000. This will give some idea as to the apparent attitude of congress on timber conservation. If we are to enter upon a constructive program of reforestation it is evident that public opinion must make itself felt at Washington.
VON TIRPITZ FOR BATTLESHIPS
An interesting sidelight on naval problems is presented by Admiral Von Tirpitz, who will be remembered as Germany's minister of the navy during the critical period of the World war. Von Tirpitz says the battleship remains the chief naval strength, that the war, so far as the sea was concerned, was won by the British high fleet and that the verdict could have been reversed only through battleships. Von Tirpitz says the German high fleet might have been a better match for Great Britain than the powers at Berlin believed and intimates that a mistake was made in not risking an engagement of this character during the decisive first years of the conquest.
Inasmuch as Von Tirpitz directed the submarine campaign which caused grave apprehension among the allies and the success of which was for a time indicated, the admiral's opinion that battleships constitute the most potent naval force is significant. He says that while the next great war will in his judgment be fought primarily on the sea, the character of maritime forces to be constructed in the light of the experiences of the late war, is a great open question. Undoubtedly the value of the submarine was heavily discounted by the manner in which the war ended. Von Tirpitz's indorsement of the battleship coincides with the position taken by our own naval experts that it is safe to assume that from present light on the subject the nation will do well to proceed with its battleship program as authorized.

COLD FEET
If one's socks are wet, it is difficult to keep the feet warm under all circumstances. And while perspiration is a harbinger and a sign of good health, it is not at all necessary to do all one's perspiring through the feet. Nor is there any danger involved in the artificial prevention of perspiration of the feet, or of any other limited area of the body. The first step in the treatment of cold feet is the treatment of excessive perspiration of the feet, and that is a simple matter.
There are two absolutely safe and effective ways to overcome excessive sweating of the feet. The first consists of a generous dusting inside the shoes and inside the toes of the stockings with powdered alum each day for several days, without washing the feet or, if they must be washed, then washing them with cold water only. The second method calls for the use of formaldehyde solution. This is sold in a standard strength of 40 percent under the name of Formalin or Liqueur Formaldehyde. One ounce diluted with five ounces of water, makes a solution of about the right strength, and this is to be applied to the toes, the soles and between the toes only, by means of a brush or a wisp of cotton. It should be kept off the fingers. It may be applied once each alternate day for three or four times, and repeated after several weeks if required. As formaldehyde is a poison, none should be left about the house.
The wearing of round garters which impede free circulation, that false dignity which keeps feet all ways on the floor, whereas they should be frequently in the air, and the embarrassment of circulation caused by corsets which are not at all tightening and common factors of cold feet which suggest their own remedies.
Freak narrow, pointed, foot-constricting shoes, chippy style, so much affected by such birds of either sex, unnaturally contribute to coldness of the feet and to chilblain or frostbite.
Wool or silk stockings, not cotton, should be worn by persons with cold feet. But if comfort and health are to be enjoyed in the fullest possible degree, then the underwear should be about the same weight and texture as the stockings. I advise light weight materials for stockings and underwear in the winter, and wool or wool-silk or all silk material of a knitted character like that of stockings.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Castor Oil
I notice that you condemn the use of castor oil as a physic for babies. What do you recommend? (Mrs. S. T.)
ANSWER—Correct diet will generally suffice to maintain normal bowel action. Castor oil should not be administered to a constipated individual, because it binds. It should not be given to children at all, because it is a nauseous and drastic cathartic. It is a purgative which children can readily take, and in the same doses will accomplish everything that castor oil can accomplish in any case.
Varicose Vein
I have heard that a varicose vein is dangerous and that one is likely to bleed to death if it ruptures or breaks. What can I do to avoid that? (A. G. W.)
ANSWER—The chance of a vein rupturing or breaking and causing bleeding is extremely small, even though the condition be severe. And if such a vein should ever break you would find no difficulty in stopping the bleeding by simply pressing upon the bleeding point with a freshly ironed handkerchief or any other clean pad, or with the finger if necessary.
Damp Cellar
We have occupied our present residence three months, and the cellar is never dry. The landlord refuses to do anything about it. Does this not endanger our health? (Mrs. B. E.)
ANSWER—I am sorry that I cannot see wherein dampness or water in the cellar can injure health. If it is a leakage of water from the ground, that certainly cannot injure health. If it is due to obstruction of the sewer drainage, this may interest the health department. But mere dampness in the cellar is not a health problem so far as my knowledge goes.

The Pestered Timepiece
By Frederic J. Haskin
Washington.—If you write with a pen or pencil for several hours a day, you are apt to get to your appointments ahead of time, but if you write on the typewriter, you are more apt to be late.
That is, if you wear your watch on your wrist, as an increasing number of persons do. This transfer of the timepiece from the pocket to the forearm, according to the watch expert, has subjected the instrument to new and trying vicissitudes.
A watch expert outlined this situation and then opened a large silver watch and indicated the balance wheel, whirling two-thirds of the way around and then whirling back. That wheel, he explained, turns 360 times a minute, normally.
"When we test watches," he said, "we put them on racks and run them all day face up, and at night we check up on them. Then we test them with the dial down, and with the pendant up and with the pendant down. From the variation in time in these positions we regulate the watches, so that they will run at approximately 360 beats to the minute. But when we test the watch it is perfectly still. It is not vibrating, as it would be with the slightest motion of the body, and of course there is none of the sudden motion that comes every time you move your hand."
Timing Retards Works
"So if the owner writes with a pen all day, and wears the watch on his right wrist, the jerking of the hand might increase the number of beats to 325 or even 350. If he writes on a typewriter, the beats might be retarded while he is working to 375."
The principle is like this: If you stir a stick around in the water, the water swirls about. If you stir still harder, it will whirl faster. But if you suddenly stop stirring, and begin to jerk the stick up and down, the swirling circle, the speed is immediately lessened by the conflicting motion.
"So when you move your arm steadily in a direction that does not tend to go against the motion of the balance wheel the outside vibration will make the wheel move faster. But if you swing your arm back and forth, as in a tennis game, across the motion of the wheel, its normal rate may be retarded for the time-being to as low as 350 beats."
It would be impossible, this man says, to estimate how much the watch of a typist or a bricklayer, or a violinist would gain or lose, because individual mannerisms and habits are too important a factor. One man naturally works or plays with spasmodic motions, while another is slower, and less sudden. Then too, weariness, the degree of skill, and the emotions all may affect the way a person moves his hands at different times to do the same thing.
The government had tests made with wrist watches during the war, and accepted for army use those that varied not more than two minutes a day. Jewelers now quote this government standard for wrist watches. Most wrist watches, they say, keep some what better time than this, and a few will vary only a minute a week, but a rate of only a minute a week is very unusual.

To our inquiry as to whether anything can be done regarding the hard lot of the modern watch, the expert only shook his head.
"The wrist watch is convenient. Men are coming to prefer it. And so long as accurate time is not vital, I suppose it is just as satisfactory. What a man loses in accuracy when he carries his timepiece on his wrist he gains in convenience, so it really is more than fashion that popularized the wrist watch."
He went on to explain that "there is no need to bewail the good old days when a watch was really told the time." In spite of the way we mistreat our watches, we have just about as good time now as 20 years ago. That is because of improvements in watchmaking. The flat hair spring, for instance, that used to tangle up every time a watch got dropped has been replaced by the Breguet hair spring that doesn't tangle.
We look upon the wrist watch as a recent innovation and a watch set into a ring is regarded as a truly novel idea. Yet history records the existence of watches like these, and others more unusual several centuries back.
Historical Wrist Watches
Queen Elizabeth received a wrist watch as a New Year's gift in 1571. Whether it was a novelty then is not noted, but the watch is described as an "armlet or shakell of gold, all over fairly garnished with rubies and diamonds, having in the closing thereof a clove." The Earl of Leicester made this gift. Some years later he presented the Queen with a gold chain inset with diamonds and with a diamond-studded "clock" as a pendant.
Elizabeth was fond of watches, or clocks as they were still called then, and had a large collection. The Earl of Russell gave her a ring of gold set with small diamonds "and garnished round about with small rubies and two sparks of opals and in the same backside a dial."
It is written that Charles V also had a watch in one of his rings and that skill in watchmaking was advanced in his day that very small watches keeping reasonably good time were set in heads of walking sticks, in bracelets, and pendants and other articles of personal adornment.
Men wore their timepieces swinging from their necks and women hung theirs from their girdles. A watch was a rare and costly possession in those days—a sort of mark of gentility we are told.
By 1770 dandies were wearing two watches with heavy chains and seals that hung on each side of the waist. Women of fashion also approved this conceit but as the expense of keeping two gorgeous timepieces was too great for most of them, the jewellers began making a dummy watch to go with the real one on the other side of the waist. Even these dummies were often beautiful and expensive, made in odd shapes, with insets of jewels or engraved in elaborate patterns.
History seems to be repeating itself so far as watch fashions go. Watches after the pattern of Queen Elizabeth's trinkets are now used. It seems doubtful if we will come around again to the freak of wearing two timepieces. Having the calculate time on two wrist watches—one going at 310 beats and the other peering tagging along at 370—would be entirely too perplexing.

HERE IS NEW REASON FOR SOCIAL REVOLT
(Special to Post-Crescent)
London—"Youth will be served," according to the Rt. Hon. Lord Ernie, M. V. O., in commenting in the Nineteenth Century magazine upon the present revolt of English youth against English traditions.
The majority of English girls smoke cigarettes; English girls and boys kiss after a few hours acquaintance; the chaperon is out of fashion; social manners are in decay; youths and maidens laugh at their parents and elders. So states Lord Ernie.
But—"War has offered us new models of character, new types of heroes and heroines, new patterns of combined and associated efforts."
What if the girls of the new era have "dropped cigaret ends, littered our floors, burnt holes in our carpets, blistered our tables, scarred our mantelpieces?" Youth is "over-eating after six years of starving." Everything will come out in the wash.

TALKS ON CITIZENSHIP
By D. O. KINSMAN, Ph. D.
Professor of Economics, Lawrence College, and Educational Director of the Wisconsin Society for Civic and Economic Education.
The State and Our Children
The child of today is the citizen of tomorrow. The life of the future is in the breath of our children. As the twig is bent so the tree is inclined. Many such truisms express the worth of our children and the importance of their training. Yet how indifferent many of us are to the right bringing up of this all important element in the future of the state.
Little attention do we pay to matters of health that a recent high authority states that of our 110,000,000 population in America less than 50,000,000 are physically sound and less than 20,000,000 are as vigorous as the race should be. Indeed we are so far below normal that on the average 3,000,000 are sick abed all the time. Here is abundant room for improvement for a very large percentage of these defects and ills are preventable.
The state of Wisconsin is organized under the Board of Health and a determined effort is being made to guard, and to improve the health of the citizens. Our children come in for a large share of this attention.
The moral training of our children must be made a matter of more serious concern. With our increasingly complex social relations due to our industrial processes in making, trading and selling goods, and with the rise of our democratic institutions, honesty, trustworthiness and a right all-round relation with our fellowmen, not simply at home but the world over, daily become more important. What is being done to prepare our children to take their place in such a society and withstand the many temptations it presents to them? Little, all-together too little. The home and the school are not doing what they should and the church has almost no direct influence upon them. As a consequence, statistics tell us, to the shame of our civilization, that more of the children of our state are graduating into our police courts than into our colleges and universities. Business, government, society and world relations are in danger of ruin because of the lack of that most essential which must bind them together. American institutions are weak in moral influence and the state should assume the task of moral training as a more serious obligation.
The intellectual training of our children is being treated by our state quite differently than the moral. It is a less difficult task and there is reason for suspecting that it has been rated of greater importance—if so, a serious mistake. Be the reason what it may, we have furnished schools without stint for our young people without numbering nearly 1,000,000.

The soldier boys in the cantonments named the quartet "the long distance singers of the world," because their repertoire seemed inexhaustible.

To his playgoer admirers, it will afford keen satisfaction to learn that Cecil Lean and Clee Mayfield have won real success in their musical play, "Look Who's Here." On its initial performance at the New York Forty-Fourth Street Theatre, the piece at once established itself in public favor and was voted a most effective vehicle for the display of the unique gift of these incomparable artists as they were frequently styled by the New York critics. Mr. Lean and Miss Mayfield are booked to appear at the Appleton Theatre, Friday, Feb. 25.

"Look Who's Here," was written by Frank Mandel, the author of George Cohan's "Marry," and Edward Paulson and has to do with a popular young author who writes love stories the girls go crazy over, but who neglects his own pretty wife. Abundant opportunity is furnished in this character for Mr. Lean's talents as a laugh maker. Miss Mayfield too, has a role that fits her admirably. Silvio Hein has written some music that has become very popular.

Mutt and Jeff
Another triumph has gone to the credit of that astute and ever resourceful and original purveyor of up-to-date entertainment, Gus Hill. As will be remembered Mr. Hill is the discoverer of amusing cartoons and comics

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

Ann Deceives Her Husband Again, And Deb Tries to Save Her

"Hullo, Sis! Let me speak to Ann, please!" This from Jimmy over the telephone. I coughed, choked and managed to sneeze in order to gain time to think. This was Jim's first day out of bed, the first time he had used the telephone for weeks. Evidently he was taking it for granted that his wife was at my house! And I had not seen her that day!

Having grasped the horrid significance of the situation, I hedged. The brutal truth was not for a man as sick as Jim had been.

"Pardon my throat spasms. Now say it again Jimmy!"

"Ann's mother has just received a cable. Ann's father died of a fever, in China, some days ago. We want her to come home. Don't tell her Jane. You understand. When Ann left an hour ago she said she was going to see you about the family Thanksgiving party."

"I'm so sorry, Jimmy, Ann isn't here now."

"Then she must be on her way home."

"Maybe she stopped to see if the nuts are falling in the park. It was such an idiotic suggestion that I had another coughing spell."

"Just like her—the little squirrel!" You're a lot better, Jimmy!"

"Sure! Out of the woods to stay, I hope!"

I hung up the receiver and turned to Deb. Her eyes questioned mine.

"Now where do you suppose that little minx has gone?" I exclaimed.

"It's impossible for me to tell that poor sick boy that his wife has lied to him again, that Ann hasn't been near my house today!"

Deb caught her under lip between her pretty white teeth as if she were endeavoring to keep back some disagreeable information. It occurred to me that Deb had been in a frightfully nervous and pre-occupied state all afternoon. Even my proposal that she elope with Ted had neither animated nor offended her.

"I certainly would like to find that silly babe," I rattled on. "It would give me a real thrill to capture her and lead her to her husband."

"I can tell you where to find her," The words slipped from Deb's lips without her usual reserve. "At Chang Foo's place!"

"At Chang Foo's? Why Deborah Burns! Do you know what you're saying? It may be the smartest restaurant between New York and Chicago, but it's no place for Jim Lorrimer's wife!"

"I know it, Jane!" Deb mediated a minute, then added: "I saw them turning in, Ann and Van, for tea, at this hour, I suppose!"

"Tea for Ann and Van will be a lengthy ceremonial," I raged. Then I glanced at my wrist watch. "Deb, get into your car while I find my coat. I'm going after her. It's my turn to rescue Ann, I suppose. I'm going after her. I'm going to deliver her to Jim—safely!" I didn't add what I felt to be the truth, that some day Ann would step past all rescue.

"Don't go Jane! You mustn't!"

"Do you mean I'll be too late?"

"It isn't that!"

"Why, my dear! I'm not afraid to go anywhere. Why should I be?"

"What then? Debbie dear, I never so you look so worried."

"You mustn't go to Chang Foo's," Deb insisted.

"Deb, you talk as tragically as if my personal happiness were at stake," Deb turned abruptly and walked to the window. A glint of sunlight on her hair made me think of the tawny tresses of the tiger-woman.

"Deb, if you will not go with me, I'll go to Chang Foo's alone!"

Take Advantage of Health Board's Offer for Pamphlet on Disease.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—The many people of the state hold a healthy fear of cancer, and desire a better knowledge of its malignant character, and steps to prevent or cure it. A recent offer through state newspapers to send a free pamphlet on facts about cancer brought to the state board of health 265 requests, divided about equally between the sexes.

Of these, 254 were from Wisconsin citizens, and seven came from outside the state, including Florida and California. Requests were received from 82 different communities, the largest response being from Iowa, Iowa, La Crosse, 45; Sheboygan, 24; Beaver Dam, 19; Manitowish, 18; Watertown, 11; Ashland, 8; Racine, 5. The supply of this bulletin, prepared by the U. S. Public Health Service for its "Keep Well" series, still is plentiful and one will be mailed free to any citizen sending a postcard request to the state board of health, Madison.

"Cancer, like tuberculosis," says the bulletin, "may be cured when discovered and treated early enough, but unfortunately its early signs are usually so painless, and seem so trivial, that neglect of the danger is too easy; moreover, and most important point of all, even a delay of a few weeks too often changes the whole prospect."

WHEY BUTTER MEN RESUME OLD FIGHT

Legislature Asked to Repeal Law Requiring Special Label on Whey Butter.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—The old fight on whey cream and butter which has been before the legislature at every session for years will be resumed next Wednesday afternoon when the senate committee on state affairs and the assembly committee on agriculture will hold a joint hearing on the Olson bill to repeal that clause of the statute which requires whey cream and butter to be so labeled.

Manufacturers of whey butter have been passing out samples to members of the legislature in an effort to convince them that the butter is as good as that made from pure cream. The law at present does not prohibit the manufacture of whey butter but provides that it shall be labeled "whey butter. This the manufacturers claim is taken as an indication, by many people, that the butter is of inferior quality which affects the price.

On the other hand, those opposed to the bill, declare its purpose is to permit the sale of whey butter as "real butter" to which they strenuously object.

Stomach Upset? Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

PROPOSE CHANGE IN MATHESON DRY BILL

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison, Wis.—A substitute amendment is being prepared for introduction when the Matheson "bone dry" bill comes before the assembly next week, on the recommendation of the divided State Affairs committee for indefinite postponement.

The substitute will, it is understood, provide that should congress fix a new definition of intoxicating liquor, raising the percentage of alcohol, that definition shall be the law in Wisconsin. It will also permit the manufacture of "near beer" to the manufacturers a beer of higher alcoholic content that can be sold, and then reduce the alcohol in the course of manufacture.

Unless there is a full representation when the bill comes before the assembly for action there will be a call of the house as both the wetts and drys are determined to "go to the mat" on the bill.

50 MURDER MYSTERIES CLEARED BY CONFESSION

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Alexandria, Egypt—Egyptian police says that a long series of confessions has completely cleared up the mystery of more than 50 murdered women whose bodies were found buried under houses in Alexandria's underworld.

Victims were murdered for their jewelry, following hashish parties. Sixteen have been identified. Several were tourists lured on sightseeing trips.

Eleven men and women, including a goldsmith, belonged to the murder band. Strangulation by a silk cord was the usual method of killing, according to alleged confession of Abdul Aal.

Four additional skeletons have been discovered. None of the confessed murderers can make identification.

"My memory is not a book," protested Rayya, one of those arrested, shrugging her shoulders. Nine bodies were found under her house.

MARTINSON IS NOT IMMUNE TO HILL HEADLOCK

Biggest of Them Will Have to Give Up When Pressure Is Put On.

When George Hill and Martinson go to the mat in the final of the wrestling tournament, the biggest of them will have to give up when pressure is put on. Hill, the champion, is a big, powerful fellow, but he is not immune to the headlock. Martinson, the challenger, is a smaller, but more agile, fellow. He has been successful in his previous matches by using his agility to escape Hill's powerful grips. In the final match, Martinson will have to use his agility to escape Hill's powerful grips. Hill, on the other hand, will have to use his power to hold Martinson down. The match is expected to be a close one, and it will be a real test of both men's skills.

Swat Kings Tell How It Is Done

Baker, Ruth and Bentley Are Maryland's Famous Home Run Artists.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Maryland is the homerun state. Three swat kings hail from the Oyster state. Each has earned the "homerun" prefix.

They're "Homerun" Baker, "Homerun" Babe Ruth and "Homerun" Jack Bentley.

Their motto—Over the fence is out. Each believes the secret of long-range hitting is due to different sections of their anatomy.

"Homerun" Baker says it's the hands.

"Homerun" Babe says it's the eyes and the swing.

"Homerun" Bentley says it's the feet.

They're all right. Close checking shows that each gets results by a combination of the three.

Says Baker—

"It's the way I grasp the bat," says "Homerun" Baker.

Grab it right down at the knob. No long distance hitter holds the bat far up.

"Use all the wood in the bat," "Hit from the shoulder. Use a heavy bat."

"That's my secret."

Baker once held the swat crown. He's still a Yankee. After a year's lay off he plans a comeback to fight Bambino Babe a homerun duel.

Says Babe—

"The eye and the swing's the thing," says "Homerun" Babe.

"Coordinating the two—times the ball and the bat. That makes the ball travel."

"Swing a fraction of a second too early or too late and you don't hit a homer."

"The old eye counts most. Without a keen eye you fluffer."

"I hit 54 last year because I timed my swing. When I was making movies my eyes went bad. I didn't bust one for three weeks. No pictures for me this summer."

"I'm shootin' at 'em."

Babe is now hunting quail down in Durie. He's knocking down the birds like a champion. His good eye does the business.

Says Bentley—

"Homerunning depends on how you place your feet," says "Homerun" Bentley.

"That gives a batter poise. Keep your feet together. You're set to step up or back then."

"Last season I tried for a while to keep my feet apart. I hit a batting slump."

"Manager Jack Dunn told me to get my feet together. I did. Then I started bouncing 'em over the walls."

Bentley is a combination of pitcher and batter. Marylanders are proud of their homerun products.

Babe grew up in Baltimore. Baker lives at Trappe. Bentley farms near Sandy Spring.

LAWRENCE TRIMS RIPPON IN CLOSE GAME HERE FRIDAY

Conference Champions Succumb to Lawrence Attack, 21 to 18.

In the fastest and most spectacular game of basketball played this season in the Little Five conference, Lawrence college defeated Rippon college conference champions, by a score of 21 to 18 in Alexander gymnasium, Friday evening. This was Rippon's first defeat in the conference this season. The score at the end of the first half was 9 to 8, with Lawrence in the lead.

The Lawrence quintet by its dazzling display of basket shooting in the early stages of the game and its impenetrable defense, showed it was out after Rippon's scalp. The entire Lawrence team played a great game, but the work of Wheeler at center and Sorenson at guard was worthy of special mention. Lawrence scored first on a goal from field, followed by two free throws by Wheeler. This was followed by two lucky field goals by Rippon which evened the score, 4 to 4. Lawrence scored next on a beautiful shot from mid-floor followed by a free throw by Rippon. Lawrence scored again on a field goal followed by another free throw by Wheeler. The first half ended just after Gustin of Rippon dropped in a pretty goal followed by a free throw.

Rippon scored first in the second half on a goal from field which put it in the lead, 10 to 9. With the score 12 and 11 in favor of Lawrence, Kubitz entered the game in Captain Basing's place, while Tesch's place was taken by Puchner.

R. W. Patrichild, Ford du Lac, refereed and handled the game in a speedy manner. Napelenski, Two Rivers, umpired and Fred Bushey was timekeeper.

Lawrence made a total of seven field goals and Wheeler counted on seven free throws out of nine attempts. Six fouls were called on Lawrence players. Rippon made seven field goals, four free throws, while nine fouls were called.

Although defeating Rippon does not give Lawrence the conference honors, it gives them the second place berth.

WANT TO HOLD BIG CUE BATTLE HERE

Appleton billiard fans soon will have an opportunity of seeing some of the best known players in the state in action here if negotiations started by Carr and Hansen produce the desired results. Recently Otto Hansen, challenged Manager Scanlan of the Plankinton arcade billiard room in Milwaukee to bring the two best players in Milwaukee here for a series of four games in three cushion billiards, 200 points, with Eugene Carr and Harold Lindie. The Milwaukee men accepted but thus far the players have been unable to agree on the terms.

While these negotiations are pending a challenge has been extended through the Green Bay newspaper to the Bay billiard stars to meet the Appleton men in a series of games. It is said several Green Bay "sharks" are eager to take up the defi.

There is still a possibility the Milwaukee match will be arranged and if it is local fans will see one of the most brilliant exhibitions of billiards held here in years.

DETERMINE WHY MAIL FLYER FELL

Huge Plane Is Burned—Aviator Drops to Safety With Parachute.

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul.—Carl F. Egge, superintendent of the air mail service between Chicago and the Twin Cities today began an investigation of the burning of the twin motored De Havilland plane which fell Friday near Mendota.
Egge, C. C. Eversole of Chicago, leaped from the plane with a parachute when it stalled 3,000 feet up.
Frank Tower, in charge of the government station near Fort Snelling, is said to have burned the plane after salvaging valuable parts. Later he issued a statement discrediting Eversole.
Inquiry is said to have proved that the plane Eversole took up had not been thoroughly gone over in three days, that only the engines were tested before starting and that none of the government air mail planes here are equipped with shutters for cold weather flying.
Assistant Superintendent Tower engaged in a bitter controversy with Pilot Eversole. He said Eversole was one of the inventors of the parachute which he used and that he was the only pilot to use a parachute.
He intimated Eversole leaped with his parachute to advertise its value and gain notoriety.

MAN'S SCRATCHED FACE MAY BRAND HIM AS SLAYER

By United Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, Ohio.—Two suspects were held here Saturday in connection with the brutal slaying of two school teachers on Bean road about three miles from here.
One of the suspects has a deep scratch under each eye.
Officers expected to have the men view the battered remains of Miss Louise Wolf, 23, principal and Miss Mabel Foltz, 24, teacher of the Parma Center high school. Police said the men are known to have visited a house on Bean road on the day the teachers were slain.
Coroner Hammond, who examined the bodies, said he found bits of skin under Miss Wolfe's finger nails and where hope to establish whether the fragments were torn from the face of one of the prisoners.

At a get-together meeting of the Fourteenth separate company in Armory G Thursday evening it was announced that the new name of the company is Co. D First Battalion, One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Infantry, Thirty-second division, Wisconsin National Guard.

William Buskie gave a talk on military discipline. Arthur Ruter described service in the Spanish-American war and the Hawaiian Islands. Military attendance was discussed by Lieut. Ives Miller, followed by a brief talk on military records by First Sergeant Charles Burhans.
After the talks and smoker a basketball game was played between the teams representing Appleton and New London companies. The final score was 24 to 15, with New London on the long end. Harry Sylvester was referee.

FOOD DOLLAR UP 21 CENTS IN SIX MONTHS

Food Price Expert Declares Cost of Living Has Dropped Materially.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Food now is 21 1/2 per cent cheaper to the consumer than six months ago, Ethelbert Stewart, government price expert, announced Saturday.
"The decline seems to be a really substantial development in the general price situation," said Stewart, "and not based entirely on seasonal changes which are so often deceptive. It is impossible, of course, to predict how long it will continue."
"Food prices six months ago reached the peak of the period in which markets have been influenced by the war. Since that time the level of retail food prices as shown by the data collected by the labor department has fallen steadily month by month."
Stewart's announcement is based on price data collected by the labor department continually from 51 big cities.
The department each month gets price quotations on nearly 50 articles of food from these cities. Once each month the prices are averaged and Stewart makes up what is referred to as an index figure. The decline of 21 1/2 per cent which he announced, therefore, is an average. Some foods have declined in price more than this. Potatoes and sugar for instance slumped more than 50 per cent each.

CUBANS PLAN TO POOL SUGAR CROP

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York.—A rise in sugar prices will become effective throughout the United States shortly if plans of Cuban cane planters to pool their entire output of raw sugar and force higher prices are successful.
A committee of Cuban sugar men is reported to have obtained pledges of support from a controlling portion of the planters and is refusing to sell raw sugar to eastern United States refiners unless higher prices are offered.
As a result the sugar market has strengthened visibly. A 30-point advance was registered in Cuban raws within 24 hours following the report of the Cuban committee's plans. The price for 36 centifugal Cuban raws rose from 4.52 to 5.05 cents a pound, with the Cubans declining to sell on the advance.
Leading Cuban sugar men have appealed to Maj. Gen. Enoch Crowder in Havana to fix a price of 1.5 cents a pound for raw sugar in Cuba as the only means of relieving the tense financial and political situation on the island.
If the Cubans are successful in forcing such a price it would mean at least 10 cent retail sugar throughout the United States, and probably more, depending on the amount of tariff the new Republican Congress will put on sugar after March 4.

COURT DEMANDS HOWAT RESCIND STRIKE ORDER

By United Press Leased Wire
Pittsburg, Kans.—Alexander Howat, district president of the United Mine workers, has been ordered by the industrial court to call off the strike in Mackle mines "H" and "J" that drew him a years jail sentence for contempt of court.
At the same time the industrial court removed the cause of the strike by settling the controversy over the age of Karl Mishmish and ordering the company to pay the boy about $225 in back pay.
Howat said he presumed the men would go back to work when the Mishmish boy was paid.
"I believe the operators and the industrial court worked together to null the operators out of a hole and make it appear the industrial court is effective," Howat concluded.

furnished or unfurnished to women who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity which the club is making possible. Every facility is being offered to these women along with a genuine welcome and a comparatively low cost. Arrangements for an experienced matron are being made.
Mrs. Frank Wright and Miss Geenen have charge of the rental of the rooms. Mrs. Thomas Orblison is to be visiting inspector. Mrs. Mabel Shannon treasurer for the committee. Mrs. Frank Wright, secretary. Miss Geenen is the chairman of the committee.
The committee finds a great need for furnishing of all kinds for the house. Club members and others who have beds, tables, dressers, floor coverings, blankets, comforters, chairs, wash stands, bowls, laundry necessities which they would be willing to donate to the home are asked to phone Miss Geenen, who will see that they are called for. Many donations have already been made, but much more is needed for the furnishing of the fourteen room house.
Women in Appleton as well as in many of the larger cities have experienced hardship in procuring a room if they have children to care for. In many cases women have had to give up good positions because they could find no place where they would feel safe to leave their children during the day. The new project received hearty backing from the women's club when it was first presented and as a result the place will be ready for occupancy within ten days. Some necessary repairs are being made this week and the entire house is being put in order. Applications for rooms have already been made.

WIFE MURDERER DIES AFTER 60-DAY FAST

By United Press Leased Wire
Dallas, Oregon.—Following a 60-day fast in jail, George F. West, alleged wife murderer is dead Saturday.
West came here last December from Willows, Calif., and went to the nearby ranch where his wife, from whom he had been separated, was working as housekeeper. A quarrel ensued and West was alleged to have shot and killed his wife.
The husband unsuccessfully tried to commit suicide immediately after the shooting and refused to touch food after going to jail. Only a few occasions during the 60 days did he drink water.
At the same time the industrial court removed the cause of the strike by settling the controversy over the age of Karl Mishmish and ordering the company to pay the boy about $225 in back pay.
Howat said he presumed the men would go back to work when the Mishmish boy was paid.

INDIANS ATTACK BRITISH VICEROY

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Indian rebels attacked the special train of Viceroy Lord Chelmsford near Allahabad, forcing the viceroy party to abandon its efforts to reach Calcutta, according to advices received here Saturday.
The party left Delhi with the intention of going to Calcutta. As the train approached Allahabad, an important railway junction, 450 miles northwest of Calcutta, it slowed down. Almost immediately it was surrounded by hundreds of extremists who swarmed over the locomotive and cars. They were driven off with difficulty but the military escort deemed it advisable to return to Delhi.
The advices, which were fragmentary, did not indicate whether there had been an actual clash or whether there were any casualties on either side. Some fear was expressed here for the safety of the christian population in Allahabad numbering about 10,000 or the city's 200,000 inhabitants.

MORE LOBBIES THAN SOLONS IN CAPITOL HALLS

Death of Present Congress Will Be Signal for More
Activity.

FARMERS GETTING READY
Every Kind of Interest Is Represented by "Legislative Committee."

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921)

Washington—Lobbies—or to phrase it more discreetly "legislative committees"—are working night and day in an effort to rescue pet measures out of the legislative jam which has clogged the machinery of congress to the closing fortnight of its session. Some members of congress who have been wondering for weeks what possible excuse they could make for failing to pass the many proposals pressed upon their attention by national organizations are secretly glad that everything is in a tangle—it is such a convenient alibi.

But if congress imagined the powerful lobbies which have been concentrated in Washington for the last several weeks mean to ease their efforts with the ending of the present session, no greater miscalculation could be made.

The farmers have started things off with a call for a mass meeting in April which is intended to show congress the strength of the agricultural club which has been held over their heads heretofore to be sure but which is being swung more perilously over the individual congressman and senator than ever before.

And the farmers defend their action by pointing to the other lobbies. "Every interest seeking to control the food, the clothing, the transportation systems and the distribution of the nation's commodities is ably represented and well entrenched here," said Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, "in issuing his call for a farmers' mass meeting with representatives from every community that can possibly send them to Washington soon after the inauguration."

Mr. Barrett's description of the various lobbies is interesting because he says he has run counter to them in his own desire to advance the cause of agriculture.

"The packers," he says, "have a lobby which Senator Kenyon, joint author of the bill to regulate the meat packing industry in the nation, has said seems to be more powerful than congress itself. This organization, well financed, with national and international connections reaching to the farthest corners of the civilized world, has demonstrated its ability so far to prevent effective control of its practices."

"The coal operators through wholesale, retail and other agencies have a lobby which for subtle power and far-reaching effectiveness is second only to the institute of American bankers and the big five. This lobby has demonstrated its ability so far to prevent legislation which it intelligently enacted and vigorously enforced might save the people hundreds of millions of dollars yearly. Notwithstanding the fact that a large number of congress favors regulation legislation in relation to the two great industries mentioned, it has so far been impossible to obtain action by the law-making power of the nation."

"The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is here to protect the interests of its membership and to see that commerce, domestic and foreign, is not allowed to suffer through the adoption of laws that they may consider inimical to their interests."

"The Association of Railway Executives is here to impress upon congress the wisdom, as they see it, of caring for the railways, protecting them against what they regard as the evil effects of diminishing revenue, while insisting on increased freight and passenger rates."

"The shipbuilders of the country are here to see that navigation laws are enacted which tend to protect them against what they say is ruinous competition by foreign bottoms."

"The fertilizer trust and all, and every interest which might point by governmental action in any direction here to see that they are not disturbed in their profit-making careers."

LEAGUE OPENS ITS DOOR TO GERMANY

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—Germany was admitted Monday to membership in the league of nations' technical organizations.

The league council at the opening of its sitting here invited Germany to participate in the international transit conference at Barcelona next month, thereby inaugurating the policy of admitting her to all technical commissions pending her actual admission to the league.

Germany and the United States were leading figures when the council convened.

Neither country was represented but discussions largely concerned motions of admitting Germany and persuading the United States to join.

Members of the council indicated their belief that Germany's obligations will be determined finally at the London conference this week. It was fully expected that the premiers now serving in the allied supreme council will be relieved from their duties in that organization and be ready to assume membership in the league council.

Plans will be discussed, also, for giving more countries a place on the league council.

Today's program included adoption of publicity rules, probably to result in a daily communiqué on secret sessions; reformation of the Saar valley commission and the appointment of a committee to study proposed amendments to the league covenant.

Canada proposed for the elimination of Article X.

Argentina's suggestion that all sovereign states be admitted.

Colombia's proposal that all decisions must be reached unanimously.

Scandinavian amendments increasing the field of compulsory arbitration.

Other nations had agreed previously to send detachments into the disputed province.

British, French, Italian, Belgian and Japanese representatives attended the forenoon session in Downing street, drafting a schedule for succeeding meetings, the first of which was scheduled for 4 p. m. at St. James palace. At that time, Greek delegations were to present their views on the Near East.

As allied statesmen gathered here there was this prospect:

That Germany's bill will be redrafted.

That the French cabinet may be overturned if that bill is lightened.

That the future relations between France and Great Britain will be finally determined.

That Turkey and Greece may adjust their territorial claims and proclaim peace.

Statesmen brand as impossible chances of a split between France and Great Britain but they admitted they saw no chance of reconciling the views of Premiers Briand and Lloyd George in regard to Germany.

Briand has been warned that his cabinet will be overturned if he consents to cut the bill of $55,000,000 presented to Germany. His desire is to Germany compelled to pay in full.

Lloyd George has declared that a bankrupt Germany means a bankrupt Europe and is willing to consider the just demands of that country.

Brand undoubtedly will be succeeded by former President Poincaré if he fails to win his point at the League conference. Poincaré is firmly for making Germany pay in full and is back of Marshal Foch's plans for further military occupation of that country.

French troops are ready to take the field and Foch's plans are laid for a movement which will split German territory, probably severing Bavaria from the rest of the country.

Turks and Turkish nationalists are before the conference, agreeing in the main in their demands for restoration of territory awarded Greece in the Sevres treaty. Greece has representatives here to combat the plan.

Prohibition has hurt ship passenger trade.

Washington—Another walloping at prohibition as a destroyer of American passenger ship "business," was dealt Monday.

"Passengers will not travel on ships which have only soft drinks, prayer books and hymnals in the saloons," E. F. Dine, vice president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, told the United States shipping board.

"I am not a drinking man, but I would not undertake a long voyage on the high seas on a dry ship."

Blaine said 90 per cent of the passenger travel on Japanese and Canadian lines originates in the United States and "by rights should go through Seattle on American ships."

FRENCH FIGHT EFFORT TO CUT GERMANY'S FINE

French Cabinet May Be Overthrown If Brian Fails to Carry Point.

SEND ARMY TO SILESIA

Representatives of Allied Nations Open Conference in London.

Brand undoubtedly will be succeeded by former President Poincaré if he fails to win his point at the League conference. Poincaré is firmly for making Germany pay in full and is back of Marshal Foch's plans for further military occupation of that country.

French troops are ready to take the field and Foch's plans are laid for a movement which will split German territory, probably severing Bavaria from the rest of the country.

Turks and Turkish nationalists are before the conference, agreeing in the main in their demands for restoration of territory awarded Greece in the Sevres treaty. Greece has representatives here to combat the plan.

Prohibition has hurt ship passenger trade.

Washington—Another walloping at prohibition as a destroyer of American passenger ship "business," was dealt Monday.

"Passengers will not travel on ships which have only soft drinks, prayer books and hymnals in the saloons," E. F. Dine, vice president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, told the United States shipping board.

"I am not a drinking man, but I would not undertake a long voyage on the high seas on a dry ship."

Blaine said 90 per cent of the passenger travel on Japanese and Canadian lines originates in the United States and "by rights should go through Seattle on American ships."

More Mills Are Burned By Sinn Fein Fire Bugs

By United Press Leased Wire
Manchester.—Sinn Feiners for a second time attacked Manchester mills in an incendiary campaign, inflicting damage of about $200,000 in ten fires over the weekend.

Several factories were completely destroyed. All ten fires broke forth simultaneously, indicating the campaign had been planned with great care. All had been started with hay drenched in kerosene. Firemen were unable to respond to all calls.

British on Offensive
Cork.—Burial of thirteen comrades shot in battle brought to Sinn Feiners Monday the knowledge that British forces have taken the offensive.

The thirteen were killed near Middleton, county Cork, Sunday afternoon when the second battalion of Hampshire surprised the Sinn Feiners in a house. Eight Sinn Feiners were captured, the military escaping with one man slightly wounded.

The battle was taken as warning here that government forces have definitely abandoned the plan of awaiting attack.

Meanwhile republicans were making a determined effort to do away with "informers."

Men suspected of giving the crown forces help are being sought relentlessly. Two farmers, Matthew Sweetman and William Connell, were the last victims. Both were found at their homes, Sweetman being shot with in his house, Connell being killed away from home.

Earlier two young men were killed, their bodies being placed with warnings to other "informers."

FRANCE WANTS BIG SUM FROM AMERICA

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—That France had asked and received an additional credit of $300,000,000 from the treasury department in April, 1919, was disclosed Monday by Nicholas Kelley, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of foreign loans.

France desired this sum, Kelley said, to cover outstanding commitments to the United States and Great Britain.

Kelley said France wanted $18,000,000 to cover British claims against the French government but decided later that only $18,000,000 was necessary.

The United States had advanced the $18,000,000 leaving a credit of $50,000,000 from which France is seeking to obtain $21,000,000.

Mrs. Nehmer is the adopted daughter of Dr. Margaret E. Holliday of Oshkosh. After the explosion, Mrs. Nehmer ran across the street to the home of Dr. McLaughlin, Episcopal rector, where the flames were extinguished. The burns were so severe death followed.

MILWAUKEE WANTS TO KEEP UP RENT BUREAU

Milwaukee.—Milwaukee's rent bureau, which was closed Saturday, due to failure of the state legislature to appropriate a fund for its maintenance, may be given a home in the city. A resolution will be introduced at Monday's session of the city council providing quarters for the bureau, which has had much to do with lowering rentals in Milwaukee.

RAILROAD BILL GIVEN RIGHT OF WAY IN SENATE

Coalition of Farmer Senators Is Worsted in First Senate Tilt.

FILIBUSTER IN PROSPECT

Harding's Program for Appropriation Measures Is Seriously Endangered.

By L. C. Martin
Washington.—Western and southern farm states senators, Monday were worsted in a contest to decide whether the agricultural interests of the railroads should have preference in having their needs considered.

By a vote of 35 yeas to 34 nays, the senate defeated a motion by Senator Gronna, North Dakota, to take up the agricultural bill.

Gronna's motion was an effort to prevent consideration of the Winslow bill providing for partial payment to railroads of sums due them from the government.

The vote was considered deeply significant for several reasons.

It marked the first real defeat of the coalition western and southern senators have sustained since they got together to force through legislation for relief of farmers.

Also it may result in the defeat of the Harding program of clearing up all appropriation bills by March 4, for a filibuster is in prospect against the Winslow bill by La Follette, Gronna and a few others.

With such a short time remaining and five appropriations bills unacted on it would not take much talk to get past March 4.

Immediately after his defeat Gronna urged the senate to pass as a separate bill the item of $5,000,000 carried in the agriculture bill to provide seed for farmers in drought stricken areas. Unless such action is taken, disaster will result to thousands of farmers, Gronna said.

Debate on the Winslow bill opened with Senator Kirby, Arkansas, introducing an amendment which would repeal the section of the transportation act directing interstate commerce commission to fix rates that yielded the railroads 6 per cent return on their valuation. Under this provision, Kirby said, rates might be made so high that the movement of commerce would be seriously checked.

"The farmer of Texas, Oklahoma and the northwest," Kirby said, "have been virtually ruined by increased and robber freight rates."

FOSS NOW IN RACE FOR CABINET POST

Hoover's Appointment Is Regarded as Certain by Harding's Friends.

St. Augustine, Fla.—President-elect Harding has asked Harry M. Daugherty of Ohio, to be attorney general, it was announced Monday.

"I think Mr. Daugherty is a fine man and I believe he will make a great attorney general," Harding continued.

"And the opposition to him only makes me more determined to have him."

Harding took occasion to reply to criticism of his proposed cabinet.

"It is going to be a cabinet I am proud of," he said.

St. Augustine, Fla.—George Foss, former congressman from Illinois, Monday was under consideration by President-elect Harding for the post of secretary of the navy.

A. T. Hert of Kentucky, and John Hays Hammond, who probably would be accredited to California, were still in the running, however.

James J. Davis, Pittsburgh, and T. V. O'Connor, Buffalo, were in the lead for the portfolio of secretary of labor.

Herbert Hoover's appointment as secretary of commerce appeared to be accepted as a certainty by Harding's advisers.

Friends of Charles G. Dawes, Illinois, renewed their activities to get him the treasury post, but it appeared unlikely that Harding would reopen negotiations with him.

Harding will finish his inaugural address this week. He went over those sections relating to foreign affairs at the conference with Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state in the Harding cabinet. Harding will leave here next Sunday or Monday for an overnight stop at Marion before going to Washington to be inaugurated.

HIGHWAY LEADERS HERE TO PLAN SEASON'S WORK

C. Rollman of Green Bay, district engineer. Greinke Bros. of Appleton, who had the contract for the Dale-Medina road, which was also federal work, were among the latest bidders.

Landis Named As Head Of Baseball To Defeat Justice

EUROPEANS LOOK WITH APPROVAL ON NEW CABINET HEAD

France and England Agree He Will Be Desirable Man to Deal With.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Friendly headlines informed Great Britain of the appointment of Charles E. Hughes to be secretary of state in the Harding cabinet.

"Friend of Britain," was a favorite expression. The Washington correspondent of the Mail said Hughes may be expected to handle the thorny problems awaiting solution in a conciliatory spirit.

Several correspondents reported that friction can be expected between Hughes and the senate which plays a strong part in determining foreign relations.

Friend of France
Paris.—"Charles E. Hughes always has been a friend to France," the Echo de Paris declared Monday of the prospective secretary of state of the United States.

"His influence will be exercised 'against the republicans who desire not only renunciation of the league of nations but isolation of the United States from Europe,'" the Echo said.

Financial Sacrifice
Washington.—Charles Evans Hughes made a big financial sacrifice to enter the cabinet of President-elect Harding, it is apparent to those who have followed his legal work since he resigned from the supreme court to run for the presidency in 1916.

Hughes ranks with Elihu Root as the foremost lawyer practicing before the supreme court during the last two years and he has argued more important cases in the high tribunal during that time than any other private lawyer. His income for the last year was estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000 as a minimum by a lawyer here who is closely acquainted with supreme court practices.

After March fourth this will drop to $12,500—the salary of a cabinet officer.

DEBS' ATTACK ON WILSON IS COSTLY

Prison Authorities Cut Off His Privilege of Entertaining Visitors.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—D. S. Dickinson, superintendent of federal prisons, Monday said the privilege of seeing visitors had been withdrawn from Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, confined in Atlanta penitentiary.

"This step was the result of a statement Debs issued attacking President Wilson at the time the president turned down a recommendation for Debs' pardon, Dickinson said.

"Debs will be denied all visitors for such time as the department of justice sees fit," said Dickinson.

"The prisoner will not be allowed to restate himself by making an apology. No such provision is included in the order sent to the Atlanta penitentiary."

Dickinson Monday was preparing a complete public statement setting forth the claims of the incident.

Shortly after the refusal of pardon, Debs issued a statement to the effect that as President Wilson, who should be a candidate for pardon and not Debs, Dickinson let it be known Monday that he regarded it as overstepping the bounds of propriety for a federal prisoner to attack the president of the United States.

Dickinson also made plain that Debs would not be allowed to leave the prison to make speeches or see attorneys or friends.

Friends Expected II
Atlanta, Ga.—"The department of justice's action speaks for itself. I have no comment to make," said Samuel Castleton, attorney for Eugene V. Debs, when informed Monday of the department's order prohibiting the socialist leader to receive visitors at the federal prison here.

"We have suspected this order has been in effect for some time," added Castleton.

Whether the department's order would prohibit Debs' writing letters to, and receiving communications from his wife, Castleton did not know.

"But I would not be surprised if such was the case," said Castleton.

Fred G. Zerbe, warden of the federal prison, said he was not in a position to answer any questions regarding Debs.

"Such questions should be referred to the department of justice at Washington," he said.

CONGRESSMAN WELTY MAKES DIRECT CHARGE OF EFFORT TO HALT TRIALS

LARDIS UNDER HOT FIRE
Judiciary Committee Opens Hearing on Impeachment of Federal Judge.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Direct charge that baseball magnates appointed Judge Landis of Chicago, as a national arbitrator of their organization to defeat suits against them was made by Representative Welty, Ohio, Monday.

Welty was before the house judiciary committee which opened investigation of the impeachment charges brought against Landis by the congressman.
